

NEED OF SEWERS is apparent according to these pictures taken last week in New Lenox. Surface water from the heavy rains had receded considerably but according to residents the section at Second and Pine is never lacking for water. That is where these pictures were taken and while you can't see it in the photographs that liquid you do see isn't just water --- there is a lot of raw sewage there too. New Lenox was without an ordinance governing the installation of septic tanks until last year but with the growth of the community septic tanks are not the answer, sanitation engineers say, regardless of how well they are made and installed. The Village Board has hired a firm of engineers to proceed with plans for a sewer system and sometime this year it is expected the citizens of New Lenox will be asked to approve a bond issue to build a sewer. New Lenox also is without a central water system.

PATRICK BARRETT

Urges Flashers For Francis Rd. Rail Crossing

A coroner's jury -- a "blue chip" panel -- which heard the evidence in the grade crossing crash on Francis road that took three lives on Christmas Day, brought in a recommendation that the Wabash railroad take immediate steps to safeguard such crossing.

The jurors recommended that the roadbed itself be improved at Francis road and that flasher lights and a warning bell that will operate automatically be installed on either side of the tracks.

They also recommended that the railroad clear away the trees and brush to the north and south of crossing that now obscure the view of motorists approaching it, especially those traveling west.

It was brought out at the inquest, which was conducted by Coroner Willard G. Blood at the Baskerville chapel, New Lenox, last Friday, that the crossing is now hallowed out and conceivably a car could stall there.

Killed in the Christmas Day tragedy were Joe Mack Rowlett, his wife Treva, both of 326 Fairmont ave., Lockport township, and their infant granddaughter, Treva Paslaski, New Lenox township. The accident occurred at 5:40 p.m. It was dark.

At the time the crash occurred it was reported the Rowletts had been on their way to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Michael Paslaski, 1 S. Marley rd., to return the granddaughter. This was a puzzle because they were traveling west. Since then, however, it was brought out that they had been at the Paslaski home and were on their way back to Lockport. The granddaughter was riding with them. The other members of the family planned to start in another car a few minutes later.

Kenneth W. Cornells of 11211 W. 192nd st., Mokena, who witnessed the accident, testified at the inquest that he was driving east on Francis road, accompanied by his wife and children. He saw the passenger train approaching from the north and halted his car.

He said he saw the west bound auto coming -- he judge maybe 40 or 50 miles an hour with the driver apparently ignorant of the train. There is a line of trees and brush along the east side of the tracks and north of the crossing that shuts off the view of a train coming from that direction when one is traveling west on Francis road.

Cornells said he blinked his lights and the driver of the other car blinked his lights in answer but kept on coming until he was almost to the tracks. Apparently he then applied his brakes and the car stalled on the tracks. The witness added that Rowlett appeared to be trying to get the car started and his wife had opened the door on her side, probably with the intention of getting out. It was then the train struck.

The engineer, Ronald W. Armstrong, and the locomotive fireman, W. R. Martin, both of Decatur, testified they saw the car door open and then came the crash.

The jury recommended that the railroad put in temporary warning devices at the crossing until the permanent signals can be installed. The railroad will have to get approval of the Illinois Commerce Commission before the work can be done on any basis, it was pointed out.

Members of the jury were, James Battle, foreman, former New Lenox trustee; Supervisor John Francis; Frank Goetschel, maintenance superintendent at Lincoln-Way High School; John Oster, superintendent of the New Lenox grade schools; Archie Corp, New Lenox businessman and John Baskerville, undertaker. William Heidrich, businessman, had been summoned for jury duty but was unable to get there and Coroner Blood swore in Baskerville.

Orland Park Will Ballot on Issues Saturday, Jan. 23

Citizens of Orland Park will go to the polls Saturday, Jan. 23, to vote on two bond issues set up to finance a water and sewer program.

There was a mass meeting Monday night in the Orland Park grade school gymnasium at which officials of the village and their representatives in various fields concerned with the program discussed the projects and answered questions.

Approximately 200 turned out for the meeting but there had been other meetings previously at which the program was explained to groups. Last week the Homeowners association of Orland Park Hills went on record as favoring the proposals.

The village board has spent many months in studying the needs of the community and the methods thru which the program can be carried thru so the citizens get the most for their money, it has been brought out on various occasions.

There to answer questions Monday night were Village Engineer, Mark Lovejoy; James Conlon, a specialist in sewer design; Morton Lang, of the bond house of Benjamin-Lang which has been aiding the village board in the financing plans; Mayor W. R. Schussler, and Trustees Bretland A. Blair, Ike Cleveland and Lloyd Cowan.

The estimated cost of the program is given by the engineer at $555,000.

To raise this money the village proposes to issue $100,000 in general obligation bonds and $455,000 in water sewer revenue bonds.

The village hall, 9924 - 142nd Place, will serve as the polling place. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Members of the village board hope that all citizens vote. The board would like to see the sewer program approved but it also would like to have a full expression by the people on the subject.

Five results can be achieved thru a water and sewer program, it was pointed out:

1. - Will increase public comfort and convenience.
2. - Will improve business opportunities.
3. - Will protect health.
4. - Will increase property values.
5. - Will make community more attractive and encourage construction.

Special emphasis is placed on the public health and safety phases of the program.

There was a shortage of water last summer because the supply was insufficient for the community's growth. A new well is planned, together with the necessary equipment to integrate it with the present system. Also to be built is a 400,000 gallon storage tank.

The average homeowner, Mr. Lang said, would pay $69 a year or $49 more a year than he now pays as a minimum charge for water alone. The $69 figure includes yearly payments to retire the G.O. bonds as well as to pay off the revenue issue.

For the Mother's March, the township, except for the village has been divided into zones. A zone colonel has been named to organize and direct the March in each zone.

Lincoln-Way FFA Launch Seed Sale

Each year about this time, any day that the sun shines, gardeners begin to plan their summer vegetable and flower gardens. Also, at this season, bright colored catalogs of flower and vegetable seeds start coming through the mail.

Since one of the purposes of Vocational Agriculture in high school is to promote the use of better quality seeds in the community, the Lincoln-Way Future Farmers decided to take on as an activity the sale of high quality garden seeds as a service to the community.

The have selected a company noted for its quality seeds. They have sold for this company for six years. Every package of seeds is fully guaranteed. Many reports come back to the school every year on the wonderful success growers have with these seeds.

The Lincoln-Way FFA have organized into teams for a grand contest. Awards will be given for high salesmen. A trip to the University of Illinois annual Farm and Home Festival is planned for the winning team.

FFA boys will call at the homes of the people of the community. Orders will be taken from the catalogs they carry. Seeds will be delivered very soon after orders are received.

This is the only activity the Future Farmers use to earn money to finance their many activities. Progress reports of the campaign will be issued at weekly intervals. The sales campaign will run approximately four weeks. The Lincoln-Way Future Farmers will appreciate your garden and flower seed orders. Letters To The Editor

TEENS SPEAK FOR SELVES

Sir: This is in reply to a self-appointed leader of the youth of Tinley Park. First the officers of the Teen Clubs in Tinley are elected, not self-appointed. We, the Tinley Teen Club, demand (since that seems to be the word) to know where you got the word to speak for us. We now take this opportunity to speak for ourselves.

We understand that you will tell the village how to build a recreation center without taxes and without a referendum. Then, in the next breath, you say, "Until Tinley cleans up I will fight to my last breath the annexation of my area to the village of Tinley Park." Referendum is the voice of all the people in Tinley Park.

As good future citizens of Tinley, we are interested in the good of all the people in the Village.

As good future citizens we are here to help our parents in their desire to give us the best that they possibly can. We have no intention of giving them added financial or disciplinary problems. They have enough to do without being told that they cannot control their own children without outside interference. When they do have these problems they get excellent advice and help from Tinley police and the Juvenile Department.

The Tinley Teens have a full program of activities each year:

1. Election of officers
2. Installation of officers
3. Dances (seasonal)
4. Supervised bowling
5. A first class girl's drill team which competes thruout the South suburbs (A boy's drill team is now forming)
6. Girls champion softball
7. Girls champion basketball
8. N.R.A. Rifle club
9. Splash parties
10. Hayrides
11. Youth Week officials are elected
12. Mr. and Miss Tinley Park
13. March of Dimes workers
14. City of Hope workers
15. Serving local civil defense units
16. Member of Tinley Park recreation commission
17. Christmas baskets for needy families.

So you see, Mrs. Wilkenson, we are busy. These activities are open to all Teeners in the Tinley mailing area. The more we have participating in these make it better for all concerned.

As a result of the Tinley Teen club, we are proud to say that we have been instrumental in the starting of Teen Clubs in fourteen surrounding towns. All this came about because of the dreams and hard work of Joe McCarthy and all his good members, past, present and future.

If we could have more doers and less talkers we would have more clubs like the ones we have now. As long as roses are being passed out we give them to V.F.W. 2791, Tinley American Legion, and many merchants from Tinley whom we cannot mention lest we be accused of payola! We thank all who work for youth in Tinley Park and never get thanks, we give it to them now.

Yours in better citizenship,
Dave Winder
President, Tinley Teen Club

AGAINST SEWER

Dear Sir: Saturday, January 23, 1960 the citizens of Tinley Park are privileged to approve or disapprove a one million five hundred thousand and dollars for bonds to install sanitary sewer (no storm sewers) with interest not to exceed 6%. At the present number of homes in the corporate limit of the Village there are approximately fifteen hundred homes. This would mean we would be approving near one thousand dollars per home. If the interest is 6%, the cost per home would be $60.00, plus payment on principle, plus operating costs, plus a satisfactory reserve. This could easily be $100.00 per annum per home. This would be an addition to our present water rate. I have debated in my mind which way I should mark my ballot with all the confusing information that has been circulated. After much consideration and analyzing the sewer project, I cannot accept the proposed proposition. Therefore I recommend vote NO Sat. Jan. 23. Anyone reading this letter analyze for yourself as I did, then decide if such a large sum of money is the answer to our sewer needs.

A TAXPAYER BOOSTS BOARD

Once again as the proposed sewer referendum date draws closer the intelligent voters of Tinley Park are being insulted by heavy attempts at juvenile humor. The last few weeks, people who are not strong enough in their conviction to sign their names to letters to the newspaper have tried to undermine the efforts of local officials. If the harm that might be done to those readers who are uninformed were not so tragic, "Tax Happy"

Couple Exchange Vows In Zion Lutheran Church Rites

The Zion Lutheran church in Tinley Park was the scene of the wedding of Nancy Jean Detrick and Merle L. Bettenhausen recently.

The bride is the daughter of Virgil Detrick of Oak Forest and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bettenhausen, Tinley Park.

The Rev. J. E. Schroeder performed the double ring ceremony.

For the occasion, the church was decorated with white poinsettias and arrangements of mums.

Mrs. Melvin Rensink was the organist.

The bride's waltz length gown was of white lace over satin with Sabrina neckline and tiered skirt. A tiered illusion veil completed the bridal outfit. She carried a bouquet of two white orchids, stephanotis and green holly.

The maid of honor, Doris Dini, wore a red chiffon over satin princess style gown. Her holly tiara was twined with white mums and variegated holly.

The bridesmaid, Judy Mae Detrick, sister of the bride, also wore a red chiffon over satin princess style gown and similar tiara.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue arnel faille sheath gown with overskirt and gardenia corsage.

The best man was Walter Franson, Usher was August Badali, brother in law of the groom.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception for 250 guests was held in Sanger Hall, Tinley Park. Out of town guests were from Owen, Wis., Morocco, Ind. and Fort Wayne, Ind.

The young couple are now living at 17244 67th ct., Tinley Park.

and his friends might be considered funny. But since the health and welfare of our town at stake it ceases to be humorous.

Deliberate attempts to mislead, remarks bordering close upon libel, words lifted and misquoted out of context have been the political tools of those with questionable integrity for many years. Why does not "Tax happy" attend a board meeting, there identify himself and ask questions about zoning and holes and sewers in public. Or doesn't he really want to get honest answers?

It is time that some of the more intelligent voters stated their views publicly in rebuttal to this type of anonymous nonsense.

The men on the village board serve long hours at very little salary in public service to their community. Just for once let's give them the thanks they deserve. Most of us wouldn't let ourselves in for the guff they must take for anything. Being elected to office did not make ogres, thieves or brainwashers of citizens just like you and me whose main interest is to help solve the problems that Tinley Park shares with a lot of other growing communities these days. Too rapid growth, uncontrolled and unplanned for in some cases, causes many problems. Let's all start solving the most important one, vote for sewers. Then we will no longer have to feel apologetic to friends and relatives from other towns who are stunned to find that anyone in their right mind could be against providing proper sanitation for the town in which they live.

R. C. Smith,
7149 W. 173rd Pl.,
Tinley Park, Ill.

Workman Heads Country Towns For Red Cross

Volunteer leaders in the March campaign of Will County chapter, American Red Cross, will swing into action soon to line up helpers in the drive to collect $88,200 for its Red Cross program.

Donald B. Baker, assistant vice-president of First National bank, is general chairman. Serving with him will be E.B. "Neb" Workman, probate clerk and long time Red Cross volunteer who will head the country towns division of the drive.

Baker issued an appeal for support of the drive, saying that "Red Cross services are vital, not only to our local communities, but also to the nation and to the world".

Services to the armed forces and their families are among the most important phases of the local program, he pointed out. Aid to disaster victims, here and in other communities, is another expensive but necessary service.

The general public in Will County benefits directly thru the classes in first aid, home nursing and swimming. Junior Red Cross also is a valuable asset to local areas.

While volunteers perform most of the services, Baker explained funds are needed to supply the direct aid needed by people in temporary trouble caused by circumstances beyond their control.

The directors unanimously voted Dec. 1, to increase the stock from $50,000 to $100,000 by declaring 100 percent stock dividends. They also declared a cash dividend of 17 1/2 percent, and to install a night depository window, same to be completed sometime in March.

Mr. Remiem, cashier stated that 1959 was the best year the bank ever had. The bank was host to the stockholders at noon to dinner served in the St. Peters Church of Christ by the members of the Women's Guild.

The front of the bank building has a new look since Sunday when it was sand blasted.

BOY SCOUTS

The Klondike Derby, held on Jan. 16, at Sullivan's Woods, was a great success. Our two patrols took part in the seven events. There are seven boys in the "Flying Eagles" and five boys in the "Ravens." The course was just under five miles across ravines and swamps and the sledges the boys pulled were loaded with 80 pounds of gear. The boys managed several feats successfully and earned 45 points out of a possible 70 points. Many of the judges were dressed in Klondike clothes, even to a real beard, such as that worn by Charles Van Horn, who, along with Roger Beck and Herb Nelson (Scoutmaster), judged some of the events. Among the events were First Aid, signalling with flags, (wigwagging), naming parts of an axe (Did you know there are five parts to an axe?), judging distance and height, cooking and erecting temporary shelters. Mr. Zenon Sykuta provided transportation for the boys, and a very enjoyable day was had by all.

Firemen's Club Holds Third Annual Election

by MARGOT BARTNIK
SY 8-7742

On Jan. 13, the Firemen's club held its third annual election for club officers for the coming year. Elected to the office of president was James Carroll; Sam Cooley, vice president; George Bartnik, treasurer; Harold Wittorp, secretary and sergeant at arms, Bill Coughlin.

Members of the department commended President Auggie Cuppari and his staff for a job well done during the past year.

June 11, 1960, is the date set for the club's third annual dance. The dance is held each year to raise funds for the purchase of additional equipment. Our city is growing rapidly and the need for an additional truck and a place to house that truck has now become imperative. At the present time we must depend upon one truck to carry all necessary equipment. Funds to purchase this necessary equipment will be secured by the combined dance and ticket proceeds. The Fire department urges all residents to lend their support to the fund raising efforts of the Club.

CITY GOVERNMENT NEWS

At the last city council meeting, which was held on Jan. 11, Alderman Ray Gaertner submitted a request for development of the area at the southeast corner of 175th Street and Cicero avenue, known as Unit VIII, which was adopted in the form of a resolution by the City Council. Several reasons were given for this request, and the J. E. Merz Co. was notified of them by letter and asked to favorably consider development of this area soon as possible.

A letter was received from the Northern Illinois Gas Co. stating that the gas inflow at city hall will be raised from 1000 therms to 4000 therms, which means that a gas furnace can now be installed in the city hall. Gas will be furnished to the city free of charge.

The city council is now on record as opposing the proposed Mo-line expressway. The council has formally resolved to oppose this plan, having had no opportunity to protest it at any public hearing. The city feels it could be re-routed in such a reasonable manner so as not to conflict materially with the development of the residential city of Country Club Hills. The city has an alternate plan for seasonal re-routing modifications that should be beneficial to all interested citizens of the State of Illinois. Country Club Hills will work with any other cities, organizations, or interested parties to oppose the present routing plan of the State of Illinois and to explore all alternate Expressway possibilities. The city attorney and city engineer were authorized to take whatever action which may be appropriate to accomplish the purpose of this resolution.

The zoning board of appeals has returned the findings for changes in the subdivision ordinance. The position of Historian for the City of Country Club Hills is open. Any one interested may contact Mayor James Nally.

Census findings should be in any day. Anyone missed in the counting is asked to contact Virginia Benison, city clerk, at the city hall, nison, city clerk, at the city hall. It is important that everyone be in this important tally since an increase in the population figure also increases the city's motor fuel tax allotment.

When applying for vehicle stickers, residents are requested to show either their old or new state license identification card. Stickers are available at the city hall for the fee of $4.

Mayor James Nally and members of the City Council feel that residents of Country Club Hills may be interested in a calendar of proposed business of the City Council for the coming months:

Jan. 18: Committee to finalize work on the chapter for licensing, Chapter XIII of the City code.

Jan. 25: Report due from playground and recreation board.

Feb. 8: Road program to be presented to council; liquor ordinance ready for introduction to council.

Feb. 22: Commercial building code, Alderman O'Connell's committee.

March: Budget hearing begin March 14; Subdivision control ordinance codified.

March 28: Ordinances for licensing contractors, posting performance bonds; ready for introduction to council.

April 11: Appropriation committee reports to the council; ordinance for fiscal year 1960; also presentation of 1960 budget.

Special committee on finance, Alderman Dan Kelley to prepare a report for the city council no later than the Feb. 25 meeting on status of taxes for the year 1959, to be paid in 1960.

To Aldermen Handling: Subdivision coding and/or building code, explore the use of inspection fee rather than building fees for such work as outside lights, eaves, small interior changes, would protect the City and homeowner and would ease tax load.

May 1: Meeting establish a complete dept. of public works, director etc. Clear up remaining details of this important work.

Everyone is welcome to attend council meetings, which are held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

John Hennessey was appointed city engineer. He will meet with DeSoto B. McCabe Engineering firm to develop road plans.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Tickets are now being issued on those parking on the road after dark without parking lights on, and also to anyone parking on the road, with or without lights on, between the hours of 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. After a one inch snow fall, parking on the road at all is not allowed.

An accident was reported last Thursday evening at 183rd and Anthony. Those in the car which landed in the drainage ditch at that corner were: Mrs. James Manion, Mrs. Jean McDonald, Mrs. Lee Hamman, and Mrs. Anne Carlson, who was hospitalized overnight for head injuries.

ICE SKATING

The pond at 179th and John was beginning to get a good freeze and it was expected to open for ice skating this week, but because of child play, the ice was broken, making it too rough a surface to skate on. The park board asks parents to caution their children about playing on unsafe ice. There will be a public notice when the ice will be ready for use.

On 187th street, between John & Baker avenues, the rink base is in good condition and if the weather continues cold, it could be filled this week, so ice skating fun can be had by all. The playground and recreation board wants to thank Redman Brothers for excavation work also the Country Club Hills Fire Department for their cooperation.

BOY SCOUTS

The Klondike Derby, held on Jan. 16, at Sullivan's Woods, was termed a great success. Our two patrols took part in the seven events. There are seven boys in the "Flying Eagles" and five boys in the "Ravens." The course was just under five miles across ravines and swamps and the sledges the boys pulled were loaded with 80 pounds of gear. The boys managed several feats successfully and earned 45 points out of a possible 70 points. Many of the judges were dressed in Klondike clothes, even to a real beard, such as that grown by Charles Van Horn, who, along with Roger Beck and Herb Nelson (Scoutmaster), judged some of the events. Among the events were First Aid, signalling with flags, (wigwagging), naming parts of an axe (Did you know there are five parts to an axe?), judging distance and height, cooking and erecting temporary shelters. Mr. Zenon Sykuta provided transportation for the boys, and a very enjoyable day was had by all.

Lincoln-Way Overcomes Strong Bid By Mustangs

BY BILL SLUIS

Coach John Megson of Evergreen Park stated: "If my boys played this kind of game on each Friday evening we could win about seven or eight games in the SWS." The Mustangs have not won a game.

Joe Kruzich, Lincoln-Way mentor, was not so happy that Evergreen should have its fine night against his squad but was glad the final score read 59 to 56 in favor of the Knights.

Each game that Lincoln-Way wins improves on its last year's slate. They have now won three conference engagements, last year the only victory was over Evergreen in the finale.

With 45 seconds remaining in Friday's basketball game, Ron Yunker scored a layup to ensure the Lincoln-Way Knights their fifth victory of the season to compare with six losses.

Yunker's bucket gave the Knights their 57th point for the victory, and 13 seconds later Jerry Haehnlein dropped in two charity efforts for the 58th and 59th points, to the delight of a large gathering in the Lincoln-Way gym.

Skip Kurzich took scoring honors for the evening with 21 for the local cause, while John LePore netted 17 for the Mustangs. Ron Yunker and Duane Warning scored 16 and 13 respectively for the Knights, and Tom McIlrath scored 13 for the visitors.

Falling behind 5-4 in the early moments, the Knights rose to a 12-6 lead with 3:08 remaining in the first quarter, but Evergreen fought back to within four at the quarter, 16-12. The Knights then proceeded to pull to an eight-point lead at the half, 34-26. Skip Kruzich and Duane Warning led the way with 15 and 12 points each.

Holding each other about equal in the third quarter, the teams faced the final stanza with the Knights on top 47-42. The Mustangs, however, behind the scoring of Tom McIlrath and John LePore, closed the gap to one point as the clock signaled one minute remaining in hostilities.

With 0:34 remaining, John LePore netted a shot for Evergreen, closing the gap to within one. Jerry Haehnlein, with 32 seconds left, made two free tosses to give the Knights the three point edge of victory.

The Knights, who owned a slight height advantage, won the game under the boards, as Duane Warning and Ron Yunker led the way. With the Southwest Suburban season now half gone, the Knights will meet Sandburg Friday night, in a game which will be played before New Lenox cage fanatics, with the battle beginning promptly at 8:00 p.m. The Fresh-Soph quintets will do curtain-raising honors at 6:45. The Knights hope to bag the high-flying Eagles, and revenge is in order, as the Knights lost a 56-55 decision at Orland in their first SWS game.

MCBRIDE GIVES EAGLES VICTORY

10 Points in Final Quarter Spells Defeat for Braves

HE HAD IT and then it was gone -- No. 25, John Ragsdale of the Braves, had possession of the ball just before this picture was snapped, and then Ron Lindgren of the Eagles snatched it away but from here it looks as if he would have a hard time getting rid of it. Maybe he bounced it out against some Redskin's knees. (Marvin Smith Photo)

That kids name is McBride! Coach Bill Brown of Bremen, a resident of Orland Park, will not soon forget that name.

Gerry McBride sort of took things into his own hands as the Carl Sandburg Eagles defied the Bremen tomahawk to remain unbeaten and shoved Bremen down into a second place deadlock with Rich of Park Forest. The final score was 62-56 in favor of Sandburg.

With two baskets up to that point -- the last quarter --; Eagle McBride tossed in five of six attempts from 40 feet away. Yes, he dropped in five of six 40-footers and never touched the rim with any of the five shots that he launched basketward.

It was hot shooting by the entire Sandburg team that brought home the victory. After Bremen had captured the lead for the first time in the game, 48-47, the Sandburg team tossed in eight shots in 13 attempts for their hottest spree of the game. Their game shooting percentage was a .35. It was lower than this before the final quarter outburst.

Brown will remember that name. McBride finished the game with 14 points.

Bremen shot a bit better than Carl Sandburg with 22 connection in 37 attempts, but the Eagles got more shots on the basket and hit 24 of 62 attempts.

Ron Lindgren that helped to spell defeat in big letters for the battling Braves. Ron never gave up a rebound on his side of the basket; and on the offensive or defensive. He was the finished re-bouncer in the conference in this particular ball game.

Lindgren had his position on every play. Pete Loverich of the Braves soon learned a few lessons by collecting three fouls in the first quarter in trying to reach over Lindgren's shoulder on the rebound attempts. Pete usually gets plenty of tip-ins on the Bremen basket, but Lindgren just didn't allow such and that was the measure of Eagle victory.

In addition to this Lindgren topped the Sandburg scoring with 19 points. But how about this shooting percentage. He shot six baskets in 9 attempts. Yes, many were near the hoop, but still that is great percentage.

Duane Erickson came up with some surprising scoring for the Eagles. For the first time this season he hit the double figures. He had a pair of crucial baskets in the waning moments of the third quarter, when McBride was out with a charley horse. Both of his baskets were two-hand set shots from at least 40 feet.

No zone could cope with the shooting of Erickson and McBride on this night.

Dick Barry used the Bremen defense to the Sandburg advantage as he popped in three thirty-foot one hand push shots in the absence of McBride.

Jim Mifflin was great for the Braves. He rebounded, shot extremely well -- he kept the Braves in the ball game.

Mifflin played a consistent -- the only Brave to do it -- and connected for 27 points, a few over his season's average.

At times the Sandburg defense would have three men on him, but that wasn't enough to stop the great Bremen shooter.

Loverich gave Jim some assistance in the third quarter as he whipped in five baskets, the only ones of the night for him. Bremen made a definite bid for the lead in this quarter, but Loverich grew cold from the corner and Lindgren would not let him get those easy rebounds and the Eagles flew atop the SWS perch with no one too close for comfort.

Both teams have played better games.

Sandburg did have the balanced scoring that they had been getting in the past three games. Don Arnold and Paul Busch failed to hit the double figures. Of course, Erickson with 11 points was a third Eagle to make the charmed circle in the game. Busch did not hit for a single score.

Bremen still needs more balanced scoring from its club. Loverich had 10 and John Ragsdale had nine. Mifflin tossed in almost half of the Braves scoring.

The Braves still have the horses and if these lads begin to jell.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By DEAN DALLAS, Semmler Press Sports Editor

Lincoln-Way's "small" frosh-soph outfit has continued to win in the SWS contests and are currently at the top of the heap with the Rich youngsters. The Knights dropped the opener to Carl Sandburg and have not been beaten since.

Things look encouraging for Lincoln-Way during the next year or two.

Carl Sandburg moved a bit closer to the SWS crown when they shoved the Bremen Braves two losses behind in the league struggles. Rich high school moved back into a second place deadlock with the Braves.

Sandburg has been winning the games on the defensive. They are currently the strongest defensive club in the circuit, having allowed the opposition 383 points in the first half of the Conference competition. The Eagles are behind at least three teams in the offensive column; Bremen, Rich and Homewood-Flossmoor.

Many have argued that the best defense is the best offense. The Eagles would seem to indicate otherwise. Certainly, the obvious difference in the Sandburg-Rich game was the bottling up of Phil Wagner by the men from Orland's bluff.

High scoring Bremen, have netted over the 90 point figure in a previous contest, was held to 56 by the Sandburg team. Homewood-Flossmoor, a high scoring outfit, found the Eagles defense the big problem as they could not reach the 60 mark.

Sandburg isn't a high scoring aggregate, but they have been scoring enough to win.

Sandburg is quick and extremely alert on defense.

Bill Adams, Sandburg coach, agrees that this is the reason for the Sandburg unbeaten mark at the mid-point of the conference play. The patented defense of the Eagles is a 2-1-2 zone which slides around, depending on the opposition. The man in the middle is quick and is free to be somewhat of a rover.

But this has been the most effective defense in the SWS.

The three top offensive clubs in the league are also on the bottom half of the league when it comes to defense.

Only winless Evergreen Park has allowed the opponents more points than Flossmoor, Bremen and Rich.

A team must have some tight defense to win.

Another defensive genius of this Sandburg team -- Ron Lindgren -- is the uncanny regularity that they get position under both the defensive and offensive backboard.

Lindgren has scored a large portion of his points on rebound and fouls where the opponents have tried to reach over his shoulder to secure the free ball.

These are fundamental in basketball. In the days of the race horse type -- it would seem that there is still a place for good solid basketball with defense.

We are not coaches -- just observers.

Sandburg Lincoln-Way Tangle Friday: Bremen Will Be Host to Oak Lawn

Carl Sandburg, unbeaten leader of the SWS Conference, visits New Lenox for the beginning of the second half of the season. They are looking for plenty of trouble.

At the opening game the Knights had captured the lead with seconds to play and then lost the ball game on a foul shot by Duane Erickson. This was anybody's ball game.

Many thought that this indicated that the Eagles were not strong enough to continue on to capture the league crown. However, they have only been pressed that close by one other team -- Homewood-Flossmoor.

Friday could well be a repeat performance of the first meeting of these two teams.

Lincoln-Way has won two of its last three conference games. They just missed a clean sweep when Jim Mifflin tossed in a last five second jump shot to beat them at Bremen a week-end ago. The night preceding the Knights had tipped highly regarded Homewood by 11 points.

Both teams have improved over the young season and it is anyone's ball game.

However, Carl Sandburg rules as the favorite in the contest. The Eagles have developed the "coolness in the clutch" are riding on top of the league. The Knights will be there and give a good account of themselves, but Sandburg should make them victim number 8.

Bremen should easily protect its number two status in the SWS when they play host to Oak Lawn on Friday evening at Midlothian. The Redmen beat the Spartans in the first engagement at Oak Lawn and should be stronger on their home floor.

They know that they are not out of the championship race. Sandburg needs only to lose one game and Bremen sweep its next six and there will be a show down at Midlothian the latter part of February.

Those Braves will seek revenge for last week's loss and Oak Lawn should make a prey that they can handle.

Univ. Of Ill. Offers Short Ag. Course

College sports...top musical entertainment...dances...week-end dates... and of course long hours of studying.

Mix these ingredients together, and the product is a "taste" of college life offered to students attending the University of Illinois winter short course in agriculture.

Dates are Feb. 8 to March 18. This short course annually attracts nearly 100 students, comments Warren K. Wessels, short course director. Most of the students are young farmers interested in increasing their book knowledge of agriculture. But ages have ranged from 18 to 65 years, with a number of women included.

Costs for the six-week short course range from $190 to $230. This cost covers tuition, fees, books and supplies, housing and meals. It does not include travel costs, recreation or clothing.

Many short course students receive $100 scholarships offered by member banks of the Illinois Bankers Association and the Illinois FFA Foundation. For more information about these scholarships, boys should see their banker or vocational agriculture teacher.

Wessels explains that the courses count toward a short course certificate rather than toward a college degree. Students who transfer to the regular four-year program, however, can take proficiency tests. If they pass these tests, they will receive credit acceptable toward a degree in agriculture.

For information concerning the short course, contact your farm adviser. Or write to Short Course Supervisor, 104 Mumford Hall, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Carnations Are Old--Yet Ever New

BY JAMES FIZZELL
Assistant Farm Adviser of Cook County

The official flower for the month of January is the delicate and graceful carnation.

The carnation as we know it today is the result of centuries of breeding and selection. It is a native of southern Europe. The wild carnation is small, and has only five petals, and resembles the garden pink to which it is closely related.

Carnations have been used for hundreds of years for decoration, but it was not until the sixteenth century that they came into general use and hybridization of the species began.

The large, double, perpetual flowering carnations of the commercial trade were originated by the French botanist, Dalmals, about 1840 and were introduced into the U.S. about 15 years later. Since that time, intensive hybridization and selection in this country has produced many excellent varieties and strains.

Since carnations are hybrids, each variety has arisen from a single seed. In order to increase the number of plants of a variety it is necessary to use cuttings or slips. Occasionally, a plant will mutate and produce a flower of a difference color, larger size, or an exceptionally strong plant. Greenhouse men are always watching for these mutations or as they call them, sports. When a sport occurs, the florist saves the plant and takes cuttings. The new mutation then becomes known as a selection and is sent to universities to be tested. If it is superior to varieties being grown, it is propagated and sent to commercial greenhouses where it replaces older varieties.

The two most common varieties grown in America today are the Littlefields, which all originated from a salmon-colored variety, Sidney Littlefield; and the Simms, which originated from a bright red, William Simm.

Through selection of sports from these two original seedlings, have come a multitude of colors ranging from white and light pink through reds and salmons, and even yellows and a new, orange-colored variety.

Each selection carries in its name an indication of which variety it originally came from. Examples are Tangerine Simm and light pink Littlefield.

Littlefield carnations are exceptionally well adapted to growing conditions around Chicago. The Chicago produced Littlefields are known throughout the country for their strong stems, large size, and bright color.

Stop at your local florist. He can show you examples of all the varieties.

Groups interested in learning more about carnations can secure a free film showing the production of these lovely flowers. Contact my office at the Cook County Farm Bureau, CLearbrook 3-6441, or the Illinois Allied Florists, Chicago, for information.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—The new home we plan to build overlooking San Francisco Bay will have natural wood siding, a low-pitched roof, and will be located on a wooded lot. Our architect suggests we use a colorful roofing material to give the house distinction and make it stand out among the trees. Do you agree? If so, what would be a good color?

A—I agree that any house, particularly one that will have sidewalls in natural wood, needs color on the roof. Your question was taken up with a color stylist who suggests a deep green blend of asphalt shingles to give the natural wood tone is light, or a light green blend if the natural wood is dark in tone. Asphalt shingles would seem to be the ideal roofing material for your house, since they now can be applied satisfactorily to low-pitched roofs.

Q—I'd like to try enclosing my porch with combination storm and screen doors this spring in order to have a screened porch in summer and a glassed-in sun room in winter. Is this recommended as a do-it-yourself project?

A—If you are fairly handy with tools, there's no reason why you can't do this job successfully. Combination storm and screen doors of ponderosa pine are ideal for this because they are sturdy and the wood saws easily and can be nailed without splitting. Unless you're an above-average handyman, it might be a good idea to hire a carpenter to install 4 x 4 upright posts at points where the doors will butt together around the perimeter of the porch.

Q—How may I bleach wood furniture before finishing it?

A—Use a solution of 15% oxalic acid and 85% water. Apply evenly to the wooden surface. Wear rubber gloves and use a sponge or cloth. Allow the solution to remain for about 15 minutes, then rinse thoroughly with water. Sand any raised grain that results and finish the wood by the method you prefer.

STOP DRYWALL STAIN

Discoloration of drywalls may be prevented by setting nails deep into the surface and covering with drywall joint filler or spackle.

Dog's Life Cozy One. For Idaho Spaniel

Queenie, a spaniel owned by the D. L. Andrews family in Boise, Idaho, enjoys the ultimate in modern comfort in her "home." Her doghouse is heated with electricity.

Andrews insulated the kennel and installed a 75-watt radiant heating element in the ceiling. A switch automatically turns on the heat when Queenie enters.

Houses for humans also can be heated with electricity at costs comparable with other types of fuel if they are properly insulated. Specifications call for thicknesses of 6 inches of mineral wool in the ceiling, a minimum of 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches or more in floors over unheated areas.

Modern Roof Keeps

Weather in Its Place

Modern building materials and techniques make it possible today to build a house to resist the fiercest onslaughts of weather.

A good example of one of these materials is asphalt shingles. These can be applied to resist even during winds of hurricane force.

PROTECT GOLD PAINT

A good way to protect a gold-painted surface is to paint it with a lacquer spray. Colorless lacquer is available in a pressurized can, which permits you to spray it on without brushing or smearing.

Harvey Savings Business Gets Off To Flying Start

1960 started the year in record breaking fashion at Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association on Saturday morning, Jan. 2. In the three and one-half hour period of business, the accounting machines recorded the transactions of 1,241 customers, or an average of 354 per hour. Despite the fact that the Association had provided four extra tellers, the lobby was taxed to capacity all morning. In that period, a new record flow of savings was brought into the Association, 501 customers adding $114,379.24 to their savings accounts. Monday continued the record breaking pace and saw total new savings brought into the Association of $129,672.16, making a two day total of $244,295.50 for another record.

December, 1959, likewise broke all records in the Association's 49-year history when the net increase of savings balances for the month was $740,918.42. The previous record month was June of 1959 when the increase in savings balances was $601,089.43, or $139,828.99 less than the record December total.

The December figures brought the twelve months total increase in savings for the year 1959 to $2,609,526, almost reaching the previous record year of 1958 when savings increased $2,668,238. John Bardwick, Jr., president of the Association, commenting on the record of 1959, stated that it was a year when a great many more people bought automobiles and other large purchases of durable goods. In addition, the year was an active one for the purchase of homes. As a result withdrawals from savings accounts in 1959 were slightly larger than the 1958 totals but the difference was largely made up by the increased new savings coming into the institution during the year totaling $9,735,303.00 or almost three-quarters of a million dollars more than the flow of new savings in 1958 of $9,002,307.00. The increase of savings for the year brought the year end total to a new peak of $21,641,928.77. The total of savings held by Harvey Federal is the largest single block held by any financial institution in Cook County south of 11th st.

Total assets of the Association at the close of the year were at a record total of $25,345,162.63, an increase of more than 4-1/3 million dollars during 1959.

The Association last Thursday, Dec. 30, observed the 49th Anniversary of its founding and began its 50th year of service to the South Suburban area.

F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America at Lincoln-Way organized, with the assistance of Mr. Goetschel and Mr. Dina, a Civil Defense program and presented it before the school body. The theme centered around bomb proof shelters. Pamphlets were passed out. The purpose of the program was to make students realize the importance of being prepared for nuclear attack.

The Christmas party was held December 16. The Homemaking I girls were guests of the F.H.A. Games were played and refreshments were served. An enjoyable time was had by all.

The annual Christmas Basket was prepared by the F.H.A. and given to a needy family.

Science Seminar Provides Program For Gifted Students

Science education for the gifted student has taken a great stride forward at Carl Sandburg high school with the adoption of a science seminar program under the framework of the Joe Berg Foundation.

Since May 1959 the seminar group of 18 students has met Wednesday evenings for two hours at the school. Altho the requirements for attendance and achievement have been stiff, only two of the original 18 students have dropped out of the program.

Selection of new members from the junior, sophomore and freshman classes will be made this month. Those asked to participate must have recommendations from mathematics and science instructors along with a sufficiently high score on the Westinghouse talent search test.

Dr. R.L. Patrick, Sigmund Linderoth, Jim Kieth, and Donald Hopkins, the latter two of the high school staff, have been the guiding minds of the program. Two of the former members of the seminar committee have moved from the area. Replacements for these men are being sought on a voluntary basis.

During the past series of 30 lectures, up to January, the group will have been exposed to such topic areas as the medical sciences, organic chemistry, crystallography, metallurgy, origins of the universe, nuclear physics, applied and theoretical mathematics. This wide range of topics has dealt with both the practical and applied aspects of the study area, in addition to the more theoretical.

Among the topics to be included after the first of the year are "dewline," "momentum principles," "inertial guidance," and "adhesive techniques." Anyone interested in contributing lectures in this next series is invited to inquire writing to D. G. Hopkins, % Carl Sandburg High School, Orland Park.

In addition to the weekly Wednesday night meetings, members of the seminar are required to work on their own time away from school on an acceptable science project.

Section 2 Page 1

Thursday, January 21, 1960

Along with the lecture and question and answer part of the Wednesday night sessions, the students are tested periodically and are required to show proficiency of a high level. If the student does not maintain a certain standard of achievement on these quizzes, he is dropped from the program.

Of the 20,219 students at University of Illinois in Urbana this fall, 4,408 or 21.8 per cent are married.

Womans Club Views Film On Polio Do Unto Others

BY FRANCES DOVE
Fulton 8-5274

January being the month for the Polio Drive, a film, "Do Unto Others" was shown at the Jan. 6 meeting of the Forest Ridge Woman's club thru the courtesy of Mrs. James Jesk Sr., chairman of the Mothers March of Dimes.

The following Boy Scouts, accompanied by their leader, James Burke, presented colors: John Jesk, James Porter, Jerry Burke, and Dennis Drew.

Carl Freeburg, assistant director of Cook County Civil Defense, talked on the importance of being prepared for any emergency and showed two films, one of which, "Crisis" depicted the havoc caused by hurricane Diane, and the other, "Bombproof" which showed how important records can be preserved in case of attack.

All officers and chairmen of the Woman's club were urged to attend the Third District meeting to be held Thursday, Jan. 21, at the Hamilton Park Field House in Chicago. Booklets were distributed to members from Miss Chloe Gifford, General Federation president, inaugurating a new educational program on subjects which should prove helpful for eight departments. These were provided by the generosity of the Book of the Month club.

The Woman's club is contributing 50 cents per member to the Illinois Care Self-Help project and will be awarded an achievement certificate. Illinois is helping three countries, Italy, Israel, and Korea in their struggle to raise the standard of living. These countries, more than any others, have to absorb millions of refugees and sorely need tools to help families get a start.

Braun Reports Home Sales Normal Again In SW Area

Sales of new homes in the southwestern area are back to normal as a result of a powerful 3-way "blues buster", it was reported this week by Martin H. Braun and Frank Aldridge of Braun and Aldridge, Inc. who are among the southwest area's leading builders and developers of custom-designed homes.

The market revived quickly, said Braun, when prospective home-buying families had their confidence in the future bolstered by (1) termination of the steel strike, (2) rumors that the threatened railroad strike is being averted, and (3) the optimism of President Eisenhower's message to Congress.

"Home sales in the entire southwestern area were definitely curtailed by lack of confidence engendered by the steel strike," explained Braun, who is a past two-term president of the Home Builders Association of Chicagoland and active in the National Association of Home Builders. "This lack of confidence extended beyond those families directly affected by the strike and embraced persons in every walk of life. Settlement of the strike brought an immediate change of attitude and today optimism has replaced the fear so prevalent during the long period of the strike."

"It would be an exaggeration to say that sales of new homes in the southwestern area are back to normal as a result of a powerful 3-way 'blues buster', it was reported this week by Martin H. Braun and Frank Aldridge of Braun and Aldridge, Inc. who are among the southwest area's leading builders and developers of custom-designed homes."

Braun & Aldridge are looking forward to a good year in the home building industry. Braun declared, however, that builders who hope to share in the 1960 market must offer good design and quality construction at the right price or their homes will not sell. "Today's buyers are too discriminating to be fooled by anything but the best for the money," Braun commented. Their developments include the communities of Martindale Estates in Westchester, Orland Park Hills in Orland Park and Brookhaven Manor in the Hinsdale area. Their combined experience in the home building field exceeds 50 years.

Both Orland Park Hills and Brookhaven Manor are currently being developed with custom-de-

Just flip the switch on Knipco's "Super-75" portable heater and you get enough forced heat to warm a shed, workshop, or "spot heat" an outside area. You keep warm on the coldest winter days. Weighs only 45 lbs. so you can carry it anywhere; runs on kerosene or No. 1 fuel oil; plugs in any 115 volt AC outlet. No vent needed. First Watershed Project Is Approved For The Area

BY VIRGINIA SASS

The first watershed project, a soil conservation project was approved in this area on Dec. 7, 1959. The West Creek Watershed includes 35,000 acres in Lake county, (Indiana) and 5,000 acres in Will and Kankakee counties in Illinois. There will be seven flood water retarding structures 2.72 miles of single purpose channels and levees and 9.15 miles of multi-purpose channels. The West Creek Conservancy District lies entirely in Lake County, Indiana.

The project will also involve land treatment measures that include contour farming in 400 acres; one mile of terracing; 70 acres of waterway development; 4000 acres of crop residue utilization; 1,000 acres of pasture planting and improvement; 10 pond structures; 7.5 miles of open drainage; 222,000 feet of closed drainage; 2,367 acres of improved forest management; 1,063 acres of forest stand treatment and 75 acres of field tree planting.

No land treatment measures are proposed for Kankakee county other than those under the going program, but some additional treatment will be necessary in Will county on the land included in the watershed behind the flood water retarding structure known as "B-2".

In early July, Leon Bailey, chairman of Lake county, Indiana Soil Conservation district; Earl D. Barnes, district conservationist; and John E. Leyden, area conservationist; met with the Will county board and asked them if they would consider being a co-sponsor to the West Creek Watershed work plan. In order to get government approval on this project and Federal aid from "P.L. 566", Will county would have to sign as co-sponsor, because over 50% of the watershed area behind structure B-2, lies in Will county.

The Will county SCD and the Kankakee county SCD had several meetings with representatives from the State Conservation office. At one of these meetings, the Lake county SCD was asked to explain the plan in detail. They secured Sheldon Boone of Poole, Ind., the Federal Watershed planner, who gave an excellent report on the plan. Included in his report was a history of flood and drainage problems in the area where the West Creek mouth enters the Singleton ditch. Damage there has been extensive in soil erosion, washing out of roads, private lanes and fences as well as serious impairment to crop production.

The Will county SCD, on the advice of Leslie Heiser, state department head of the Division of Soil Conservation, took the stand to sign as an assistant rather than a co-sponsor. As a co-sponsor, the Will county SCD would accept financial responsibilities and liability as well as the responsibilities for land treatment measures. All of the conservancy district is in Lake county and includes all of the ponds and structures. Will county will receive no benefits directly or indirectly, therefore the above stand was taken.

Recently the Will County SCD received a copy of the approved plan and a letter from C.E. Swain, state conservationist of Indiana, that stated, "It gives me a great deal of pleasure to inform you that on December 7, 1959, the West Creek Watershed work plan was approved for operation. The resolution in lieu of co-sponsorship was determined by the Soil Conservation Service to be satisfactory. It was upon this basis that the watershed work plan was approved."

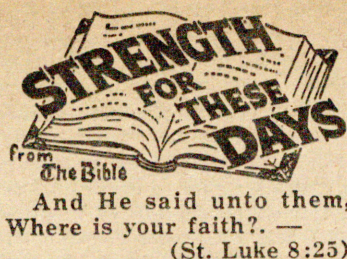

The Will County Soil Conservation District is pleased to have had the opportunity to aid a neighboring county of a neighboring state to obtain such a worth while project.

Two educational meetings affecting a rather large number of people, were conducted during the past week. They were: 4-H club officers' training school, and the vegetable growers' school. These programs were planned by a committee of local people and the Extension staff. We feel that the meetings this year were as good as we can make them; however, we realize that very few programs conducted by us or anyone else are perfect.

While the meetings are still fresh in the minds of you that participated, why not send us your thoughts about this meeting and some constructive suggestions for future meetings of this type, or for that matter, suggestions for any other educational program which you feel would be beneficial to the community. Your cooperation and help in this matter will be very much appreciated.

The University of Illinois college of agriculture is engaged in research, teaching, and extension activities. The vast amount of information developed at the college of agriculture is available to anyone who wishes to use it. The extension staff of this county will be most pleased to help anyone with agricultural problems insofar as our ability permits.

The information gleaned from research is passed onto the public in many avenues; — the press, radio, television, meetings, and demonstrations are some of the most frequently used methods.

The university is conducting a program on Feb. 2 and 3, which I think will be of interest to many people of the South Cook area. The name of the program is "Agricultural Industries Forum." We recognize the fact that agriculture and related industries have many problems in common. This forum will bring together people engaged in agricultural production as well as those industries furnishing goods to agriculture, or processing agricultural products. I have several copies of the program in my office. Anyone interested can see a copy. You might find something which will be helpful to you in your business.

4-H leaders should mark the date of Feb. 16 on their calendar. This is the date of the district 4-H leaders' conference, to be held in Kankakee. The theme of the program this year will be: "Share the Fun". Since a luncheon is provided, I would like to have the reservations of the 4-H leaders by February 9.

One of the important discussions at the vegetable growers' schools centered around the use of agricultural chemicals. The recent difficulties encountered by the cranberry growers in the use of amino triazole, exhilarated research and study on existing chemicals to see if they produce any harmful effects on humans. Farmers, home gardeners, and anyone who uses chemicals to control weeds, insects or diseases, should carefully follow the instructions on the container. These instructions were designed to permit the chemical to do this job most effectively and also protect the public welfare.

Council Dinner

The annual recognition dinner of Rainbow council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held Thursday, March 24, at 6:40 p.m., at the Kankakee civic auditorium in Governor Small Memorial park, Kankakee. It was announced by Louis R. Peyla, Jr., chairman, Mokena and New Lenox troops belong to this council.

Attending the meeting, which is open to the public, will be adult Scout leaders and their wives from the 180 Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer posts in the three-county council. The council is comprised of Grundy, Kankakee, and Will counties.

A highlight of the meeting will be the presentation of the Silver Beaver awards for Distinguished Service to Boyhood.

Tickets may be obtained at the council office at 22 W. Cass St., Joliet.

Courses For Builders To Start Feb. 8

Central YMCA's Home Builders' Institute, 19 S. LaSalle St. the only in-service training center for builders and members and associated fields offered in Chicago, will open winter sessions, with several new courses, the week of Feb. 8.

Planned in cooperation with the Home Builders Association of Chicago, the Home Builders Institute presents sixteen week evening courses in fundamentals of home building, including design, cost estimating, and construction. Courses will be available for supervisors, contractors, and development planners and for those who want to enter these fields or become familiar with them.

New courses will include "Accounting for Builders" and "Merchandising New Homes."

All courses are led by practicing builders, designers and realtors. A Certificate in Home Building, carrying the endorsement of the Home Builders Association, will be awarded to students who complete six courses, including four which are designated as "required."

Classes will meet Monday or Wednesday evenings.

Registration is now open at Central YMCA, 19 S. LaSalle St. For further information, call Central 6-8600.

New courses include merchandising for builders.

Sewer Bond Elections Jan. 23

Two of the area communities, Orland Park and Tinley Park, have sewer bond elections scheduled for this Saturday, Jan. 23.

In Tinley the issue submitted to a referendum the type known as revenue bonds.

At Orland Park the voters will ballot on two proposals, one to authorize an issue of general obligation bonds, the other to pass on issuance of revenue bonds.

General obligation bonds are retired thru a tax levy. Revenue bonds, as the name implies, are paid off thru revenue accruing thru the sale of services. In this instance the revenue bonds would be paid off from payments for sewer and water service.

These two types of bonds are now in general use for public improvements as both are easily marketable. Thirty years ago much of such work was financed thru special assessment bonds but the depression in the 1930's ended that. One still reads from time to time of attempts made to collect on special assessment bonds issued in the '20's and the '30's.

It is not difficult, therefore, to see why there is no market today for special assessment bonds. When they are used the usual procedure followed is for the contractor to take his pay in bonds which he disposes of at an enormous discount. The interest is always higher too, sometimes as much as 3 per cent. Because it is difficult to dispose of special assessment bonds contractors price their jobs correspondingly higher.

Probably the best way to finance public improvements is thru general obligation bonds. But such issues are limited to an amount equal to 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of the governing body responsible for their repayment.

In municipalities where the assessed valuation is based almost entirely on residential property, as is the case of communities in this area, five per cent of it holds bond issues to around the $100,000 mark. Such a sum, of course, would be insufficient to meet the cost of such projects as sewer and water systems so revenue bonds must be sold to make up the difference.

The citizens of Orland Park and Tinley Park should not quarrel with methods proposed to finance their sewer programs, as they are the same methods employed by practically all municipalities today, and it is not expected they will.

It is expected that persons interested in the present and futures of these two villages will go to the polls Saturday and vote for the bond issues.

Certainly it will cost them money but there isn't any improvement that comes free. Someone has to pay. No governing body, from the federal government to a park or mosquito district, has a money tree. The only funds they possess come from people.

There is no question but that sewer systems are needed in congested areas. Septic tanks are not the answer. Orland Park officials also plan an additional well and other improvements to the village water system as well as a sewer project.

An adequate water supply and a sanitary system for the disposal of waste are vital to the health of a community; they are also vital if a community is to grow and prosper; they also enhance the value of all the property affected.

Engineers familiar with such things say further delay in beginning these proposed improvements will be costly. The price of materials and labor is higher now than it was a year ago, they report, and they expect the prices in 1961 will be higher yet.

It would seem to be common sense to support the bond issues in the elections Saturday.

tory of the state.

One might say that the first six years of his tenure were the hardest. By then he had piled up such a record of convictions that the remaining six years in office were devoted mostly to drawing indictments. That was usually sufficient because prisoners and their attorneys found it more advantageous for defendants to plead guilty and throw themselves on the mercy of the court -- as the phrase goes -- than to go to trial.

Burke also established a great reputation as a trial lawyer -- for the defense in criminal cases, and in civil suits as well. Jim one time defended three personal injury actions in succession which were prosecuted by the three best men in that field in Chicago (one of them was rated tops in the nation) and he won them all.

When Burke was in court before a jury one could count on a full court room. Lawyers came from various parts of the state and other states as well to watch his technique.

Jim could think faster on his feet than most lawyers can seated with the books open and a brief before them. He was like an expert chess player who an hour ahead can see the moves that will spell checkmate to his opponent.

When the present state's attorney, Frank H. Masters took office Jim was on his staff for a couple of years as a special assistant. In all he spent 20 years in the prosecutor's office and it will be a long time before his equal will be found.

The last few years because of ill health -- he had spent in semi-retirement altho he maintained his offices in downtown Joliet to the end.

And so, Your Honors, the state rests!

the jury -- the spectators were the critics.

The late Robert W. Martin was then state's attorney of Will county and was one of the most capable prosecutors ever produced in the state. To Jimmy Burke he became a hero and now his desire to become a lawyer had a purpose -- he wanted to become a state's attorney.

Few of us are unable to realize our dreams but Jim did. He began the practice of law in 1922 and four years later the late Hjalmar Rehn who had succeeded Martin as prosecutor appointed him as his first assistant. Burke's skillful defense of Edison Davis, a negro who had strangled an old lady in Braidwood to rob her of her meager savings, resulted in the defendant getting off with a life sentence.

Davis was a 20 to 1 shot to hang in the book of court fans. "A kid just out of law school, appointed by the court to defend this fellow... a colored man and the victim a white woman... and get a look at that jury -- pretty tough looking bunch... he'll hang as sure as shooting."

But by the time the case went to the jury two or three of the more astute court spectators were not so sure. That Burke kid had something. Give him some experience and he would be a good man to watch. Rehn asked death but the jury made it life imprisonment.

On Second Tho't

By GLENN F. LOGAN
The death of James E. Burke last week not only brought to a close the career of a brilliant lawyer but also ended an era in the Will county bar.

Burke was the last of the great jury lawyers in a bar that over the years had many attorneys skilled in the art of vocal pleading. And going back one must place Jim among the best.

There are still two practicing attorneys in Joliet who were very good jury lawyers, James W. Faulkner and R.C. Schoensted, but it has been many years since they have appeared in such cases.

Few cases are tried before juries in Will county anymore. This is the age of compromise and settlement. Cases are begun before jurors but only to have the issues settled before they are finished.

There can be a lot of drama in a jury trial and watching and listening to one can be most absorbing. It was small wonder then that a youth whose one ambition was to become a lawyer should spend many of his hours on the spectator benches in the Will county law courts.

When Jimmy Burke was attending high school it was fortunate that he had a quick, retentive mind so that it was easy for him to make up work missed thru attendance of jury trials. It was not unusual for Jim to cut classes when a good case was on at the courthouse. Some of his contemporaries perhaps were truant too in order to catch matinees at the theater or movie houses but for young Burke that was pallid stuff and not to be compared with the verbal cut and thrust that marked courtroom drama.

And when the criminal calendar was called for trial Jim found it fascinating. Here were the real thrillers and the stakes were high. A lot of money might go one way or the other in a civil case but on the criminal docket a defendant stood to lose his liberty or even his life.

His fate was in the hands of the jury but the battle for the jury was between counsel. Court attaches, lawyers, news people, and veteran court fans delighted in this clash of skill and wits. The defendant became only figurehead, a necessary prop in the show. The attorneys held the spotlight and their tactics and conduct of the case was what counted. Their audience was

The Modern Miracle of Electric Heating

60 Northern Illinois home builders and scores of apartment buildings now offer electric heat. Here is one reason:

Warmth that goes right down to romper level

If you lived on the floor (as children do) Electric Heat is the only kind you'd settle for in your new home. With it there are no chilly drafts or cold spots. Radiant Electric Heat feels like summer sunshine. It is a penetrating warmth that keeps you perfectly comfortable without overheating. It is instant, automatic heat. Each room has its own thermostat, so you can adjust the temperature to suit yourself in any room in the house. And Electric Heat is so responsive that even when the mercury does a nose dive you'll never know how cold it is outside. In short, Electric Heat gives you the cleanest, quietest, most comfortable home heat there is today.

Public Service Company

New low home-heating rate. It takes a few dollars a month more to heat electrically. But the new low rate for homes heated entirely electrically—plus improved construction and insulating techniques—brings Radiant Electric Heat within the means of most home buyers. For a detailed estimate or more information about where to see Electrically Heated Homes or Electrically Heated Apartments in this area, call your nearest Public Service office.
